

Letters to the Editor for Feb. 9, 2015

Published: Monday, February 9, 2015 at 6:01 a.m.

Last Modified: Wednesday, February 4, 2015 at 11:20 p.m.

Good deeds

I would like to thank Plum Creek for all of the good things they have done over the last five years. Many nonprofit, charitable organizations have benefitted from their good deeds.

The local nonprofits include the Boys and Girls Club, Meridian Behavioral Healthcare, Melrose Senior Community Center, Cotton Club, the Black on Black Crime Task and the Guardian Ad Litem Foundation. They have also contributed funding to nonprofits in other counties and states.

I sit on the Reichert House board, an organization addressing the needs of African-American boys in elementary, middle and high schools. Assistance from the Plum Creek Foundation has allowed us to help these boys with school work by providing a tutoring program.

We are able to pick up the boys immediately after school and provide them a full meal. When we take them home, we are able to send food home with them. The grant also allow us to take them on field trips.

Rosa B. Williams,

Gainesville